Dedication

The warm response of his friendly smile and the brightness of his wit have opened doors for a strong teacher-student relationship. He has faithfully devoted his time and efforts, not only to the class of 1968, but to all the students of North High. As a teacher, he has enlightened us with wisdom and knowledge to better prepare us for the future. His contributing spirit has created a deep bond of friendship.

With respect and admiration, we the Class of '68, dedicate our Northern Light to you, Mr. Robert R. Olivier

SUPERINTENDENT

The parade of progress is inevitable. Graduation marks another significant milestone in your too swift race toward adulthood. Remember always that with the approach of maturity, increased privileges are inexorably accompanied by increased responsibilities. Be aware of the difference between liberty and license, as progress can be painful as well as pleasurable. Remember, too, the quotation from Hamlet that states,

"There's a divinity that
Shapes our ends,
Rough-hew them how we will."

Good luck to the Class of 1968!

VINCENT B. McGEE

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT

RICHARD W. BLAZO

PRINCIPAL

Our schools have been concerned primarily with the education of individuals for life in homes, communities, states, and the United States.

Today conditions are different. The word "community" can no longer be used exclusively to refer to a small geographical area. Today the world is our community and the two and a half billion men, women, and children on our globe are neighbors. We must live together in peace or perish.

Education is the chief means for creating a better world founded upon peace, freedom, justice and better living standards for the entire family.

I only hope that your years of schooling have prepared you for the problems each of you will have to face and that you will find success and happiness in whatever careers you choose.
